

Hemanth Ravindran

Product & Visual Designer specializing in UI, Motion, and Illustration.

Over the span of 9 years working in the field of design, I've collaborated with both small and large teams, undergoing a transformative journey from an illustrator to a product designer. During the course I had delved into the different areas in between, and it shaped my ability to look at problem-solving through a visual lens. I consider it as my greatest strength today.
